KUMERIC SAILS FOR VANCOUVER

Steamer With Japanese Gets Away for Canada After Long Wait.

The steamer Kumeric, with 1204 Japanese emigrants and nineteen deported Portuguese, sailed for Vancouver last night at 7:15. The examination of the Portuguese who came over on her was completed yesterday morning and Immigration Inspector Brown sent the nineteen who were to be deported, out to the vessel early yesterday afternoon. Of this number three were stowaways who were not desirable immigrants and the other sixteen were regular immigrants, who were rejected by the immigration authorities on account of having trachoma and for other reasons specified by the new immigration law.

Attorney Charles Chillingworth was happy as could be yesterday afternoon. All his troubles were over and he had at last finished the work which has been causing him worry night and day for nearly three weeks. He said that he believed there would be no trouble at the other end as he thought that every precaution had been taken and that there was no reason that the immigration authorities at Vancouver should reject any of the men on board.

In speaking of the detention of the Kumeric to Chillingworth, in the presence of an Advertiser reporter, Inspector Brown disclaimed any effort of any kind to hold up the vessel. He stated that four days ago he had turned over a bond to Davies & Company asking for it to be signed, and that the vessel had been held outside the harbor for clearance papers simply because the agents for the vessel refused to sign the bond which was required by law.

The Kumeric should reach Vancouver within ten days, as she is a fairly fast boat and will not make any delay on the way except in case of a breakdown of her machinery. Moriyama, the head of the Japanese hui which had charge of the immigration, went on board the Kumeric yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock and will accompany the Japanese to Vancouver and straighten out any legal tangles which may come up. An attorney has been engaged in that city to help him out with any matters which may be taken before the courts if there should be any trouble over landing.

PELE PLAYS TRICKS ON HER VISITORS

HILO, July 12, 9:30 a. m.—The volcano has died down somewhat, much to the disgust of the party that went yesterday from Honolulu. They went down into the crater after having supper at the Volcano House last night and found that the active lake had fallen in, the display of fire being very slight.

No sooner had they reached the top of the crater on the return trip than the glare in the sky showed a renewal of activity, so that eight of the party started right back and for the second time reached the pit to find that the fire was the reflection only of an active cone. To say that they were disgusted doesn't begin to express their feelings, for two trips in one night is rather hard work after a day and a night on the Kilauea.

However they had breakfast and started off to catch the steamer and will be in town here in about fifteen minutes.

There were rain showers last night and this morning after a week's dry and rather warm weather.

STEAM LAUNDRY MACHINERY FOR MAUI

The island of Maui will have a steam laundry in the very near future. The machinery arrived yesterday on the American-Hawaiian Steamship Nevada and will be delivered at Kahului on Monday. The Maui Steam Laundry Co. will have its principal place of business at Wailuku. The articles of incorporation of the company were filed on September 17 of last year and provided for a capital stock of $5000, divided into 500 shares, 425 of which had already been subscribed for by thirty-two individuals.

The officers of the new company are: C. D. Lufkin, president; R. A. Wadsworth, vice president; J. Garcia, treasurer; D. H. Case, secretary; the above with J. L. Cook and H. Strebeck to constitute the board of directors.

A Wahiawa Small Farmer

The above picture is that of a Wahiawa small farmer, who is neither a Chinaman nor a Jap, and who can, under present conditions, make a good living on ten acres, doing all the work himself. On twenty acres he can hire all work done, confining his effort to superintendence. On thirty he can employ a superintendent and laborers and need not live on the place. On forty acres he can take a yearly trip to the Coast, returning to open his house, in a modest way, to a few congenial friends, have an automobile, etc.

Can you do better elsewhere?

DR. CONRARDY'S RIDE IN HEARSE

The Well-Known Priest Tells
Story of His Molokai Experience.

Father Conrardy, who has many friends in Honolulu and the Territory, is now definitely engaged in what he has long determined on as his life work—the amelioration of the condition of lepers—having found a place therefor in Canton, China. The following news article is from a late issue of the Montreal Daily Witness:

The Rev. Father Conrardy, the physician priest who is in Montreal collecting funds to carry on work among the lepers in Canton, delivered a very interesting lecture on his work, before a large audience, in Kama Hall, last evening. The Hon. C. J. Doherty presided, and among others on the platform was the Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Christ Church Cathedral.

The lecturer spoke of his work as helper to the Rev. Father Damien, who died a victim to his devotion for the lepers in Molokai.

Father Conrardy referred to his having been ill of cholera after the death of Father Damien. He was very ill and the poor lepers did what they could for him, but he needed medical attention to recover. As the nearest hospital was miles away and as there was no wagon in the settlement, how to transport him was a difficult question. The lepers finally decided to put him in the hearse, in which mortuary vehicle he was hauled to the hospital.

A characteristic point was brought out by the lecturer in a letter which he read from a young leper in Louisiana, which reminded him of the pleasure he had received by a shake of the hand—it was so long since the leper had felt the grasp of friendship.

After a description of the terrible state of things in Molokai before the arrival of Father Damien, the lecturer said that the same conditions now existed in Canton, and he hoped to be able to go to those poor people before Christmas.

The lecturer explained that he left Molokai because another missionary had been appointed to take the place of Father Damien, but he declared that he had, nevertheless, decided to devote himself to the welfare of the lepers. One day he met a Congregationalist minister, who told him if he really wanted to devote himself to the lepers he should go to Canton, and he went there. After an inspection he returned to the United States, and though he was 54 years old he began to study medicine and earned his degree. He was now collecting funds with which to go back to China and to do for Canton what Father Damien had done for Molokai.

The lecturer said it was his desire to establish a leper settlement in Canton. To show what he could do with a little money, he declared that he could support a leper for about three cents a day, or a dollar would keep thirty of them for one day.

Should lepers marry? This was a question put, and answered to the effect that the missionary had no right to say "No." That was the province of the government, and their decree was, "Let them alone." As a matter of fact leprosy is not transmissible to an offspring, though the child might become a leper if not removed from the infection. At least, he had never seen a child that had leprosy that was due to birth from leper parents.

At the close of the lecture, the Rev. Dr. Symonds said a few words of sympathy for the work of the physician-priest, and hoped he would return home in good health, which sentiment was loudly applauded.

SPECIAL OFFICER REDHOUSE'S CASE.

J. W. A. Redhouse, one of the citizen police, got a case yesterday and lost no time in turning in a call for the wagon. He and Assessor John W. Francis had been peering into the depth of the drain that passes under the road on King street from the Castle Kindergarten to Wright's building, and in the murkiness located the body of a Chinaman with a waggly head. This could be no other than the Chinaman that the whole police force had been scouring the island for for weeks and it took just a plain, ordinary citizen with a special badge and a patrol box key to finally locate him. Bicycle Officer Parker, who came out instead of the wagon, spoiled things, however, by crawling down the drain and dragging out a bunch of palm leaves, into which the lurking Chinaman had transformed himself.

SEWAGE SYSTEM FOR TOWN OF KAHULUI

Among the passengers to arrive yesterday on the steamer Nevada was F. Sinnock, a graduate of Stanford University and a civil engineer by profession. He has come here to make plans for the town of Kahului, which will include a sewage system, maps for the building of streets in the town and a number of other improvements. Mr. Sinnock is a young man, but is said to be very capable in his line of work.

STABBED HIS WIFE IN A ROW.

Mahelona, a native who lives in Jacklane, off Nuuanu avenue, quarreled with his wife last night and in the row which followed stabbed her with a jackknife. The police were informed of the trouble and Deputy Sheriff Jarrett went up in the patrol wagon and put the man under arrest. The woman was taken to the Queen's Hospital, where it was found that her injuries were not at all serious, consisting of flesh wounds in both arms.

CHINESE MINISTER COMING.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—The Chinese Minister to the United States will arrive in San Francisco the afternoon of July 8, on the Oriental fast mail from Chicago. He is coming accompanied by his retinue and is to sail for China July 9, on the steamship Korea. Upon his arrival in China his successor will set out for the United States. This new Minister, due to arrive at San Francisco about September 1, is Liang Tun Yen, and he has been promoted to the Ministry at Washington after serving as Consul at the city of Tientsin, which is a place about four times the population of San Francisco.

LIVELY BIDDING AT LAND SALE

Purchaser of Portion of Pauoa
Land Fails to Give Deposit.

There was a lively time at the foreclosure sale, at noon Saturday, in the suit of Ellen Albertina Polyblank, otherwise known as Sister Albertina, trustee for Stella Keomallani Cockett, and Stella K. Cockett, against David Kawanakaoa, Jonah Kalaniana'ole, Abigail W. Kawanakaoa, Elizabeth K. Kalaniana'ole, and the German Savings and Loan Society.

James F. Morgan, auctioneer, conducted the sale for M. T. Simonton, commissioner. The property consisted of two pieces of land, the second being enclosed by the first, on Pauoa road near Nuuanu avenue. There was 5.17 acres in the first portion, it being the premises formerly occupied by the late A. T. Atkinson as a home and St. Alban's College, a school conducted by him for some years. The second portion contained 1.95 acres and was not to be sold unless the first portion brought an insufficient price to pay the mortgage, etc. Its separate sale was required on account of a second mortgage upon it held by the G. S. and L. Society.

From a bid of $3000 the larger piece was run up to $5000, at which Edgar Henriquez became the purchaser. He deposited more than the required 10 per cent. in the form of a certified check for $750.

The second piece was started by T. R. Mossman at $300. Henriquez made an advance of $25 and, in bids of $25 and $50, the competition between him and Mossman ran the figure up to $750. At this Henriquez retired and the land was knocked down to T. R. Mossman, trustee, for $775. Relatively to size and position this was disproportionately high as compared with the price obtained for the first piece. The contest was therefore very surprising to outsiders.

An impasse was reached, however, when the purchaser confessed that he did not have the required deposit of 10 per cent. to put up. There was a consultation over the difficulty in which E. A. Douthett, attorney for plaintiffs, took part. Ultimately the matter was left with the commissioner to report to the court.

The mortgage debt was $5000 with interest for two years, to which expenses of court and sale have to be added, making a total indebtedness of about $11,000. Should the sales be confirmed as a whole the total realization of $775 would leave a deficiency judgment of between $3000 and $4000 to be entered.

W. H. C. Campbell of Hilo, manager of Hawaii Mill Co., and E. E. Richards, manager of the Hilo Telephone Co., arrived by the Kilauea.

PHILIPPINE COAL TO BE USED ON THE ARMY TRANSPORTS

Government Experts Being Sent to Arrange for a Supply---Haywood Defense
Witnesses Discredited.

(Associated Press Cablegrams.)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Government experts are to be sent to the Philippines to investigate the coal fields there and to arrange for the opening of the mines and the supplying of the government transports.

It has been reported that the government proposes to take on no more coal for its vessels at Nagasaki, the port at which nearly all the naval and army vessels have been coaling. Rumors of explosives found in the coal bunkers of some of the vessels are given as a possible cause for this, but the desire of the government to open the Philippine fields is probably due to the desire to not be dependent on any foreign nation for an absolute necessity.

HARRIMAN COMBINE DESTROYS COMPETITION

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has made its report to President Roosevelt on the result of the investigation into the methods and deals of E. H. Harriman. The report is to the effect that through the combinations effected by Harriman competition in railroad matters has been destroyed. The report makes no recommendations as to possible remedies.

HAYWOOD'S WITNESSES BADLY DISCREDITED

BOISE, Idaho, July 14.—The rebuttal in the Haywood trial is discrediting the witnesses of the defense, one of them having confessed that he had been convicted of murder. Another of the defense witnesses has been ordered arrested for perjury.

AMERICAN PROPOSALS FAVORED.

THE HAGUE, July 14.—The majority of the propositions advanced by the American representatives at the Peace Conference have been favorably received.

TRAVERS THE GOLF CHAMPION.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 14.—Jerome Travers won the national golf championship in the tournament which ended here yesterday.

DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST GOVERNMENT

PARIS, July 14.—Demonstrations against the government, partly the result of the agitations of anarchists, are being made in the provinces.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The prosecution has decided to select a Mayor to succeed Acting Mayor Boxton. The commercial and labor bodies have been unable to agree on the selection of a Mayor to succeed the convicted Schmitz.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Admiral Yamamoto visited the ship yards on the Delaware river today.

MAJOR O'NEILL ON THE SHERMAN.

Major J. P. O'Neill, 30th Infantry, who was army quartermaster on the transport Siam in the latter part of 1899, is a passenger aboard the transport Sherman. Major O'Neill ran across Chief of Detectives Taylor yesterday, both having been aboard the Siam on her memorable trip to Manila in October, 1899, when 371 out of the 373 horses and mules aboard were killed during a four days' typhoon off the coast of Luzon. That trip of the Siam was the most disastrous in the transport service history and the vessel barely weathered the storm. On that trip Captain O'Neill was called upon to put down two mutinies among the Austrian fire crew, and at one time he threatened to string up the ringleader by the thumbs. The English Chief Engineer became unbalanced during the storm and had to be placed in irons by O'Neill. The Siam arrived at Manila a perfect charnelhouse. During the Japan-Russia war the Siam was captured by the Japanese while carrying coal to Vladivostok and was sold back to the Austrian company through the prize court.

TWO HUNDRED-DOLLAR BONFIRE.

Buddy Edmonds, the young son of H. W. S. Edmonds, of Waikiki, was taken into custody yesterday afternoon on a charge of malicious burning. According to the warrant sworn to by Tam Pong, Buddy had a bonfire on the night of the tenth, the flames being the cause of his pile of rice straw disappearing, straw valued at $200. The arrest was made yesterday, it having taken the Chinaman until then to locate the boy who had applied the match.

DEATH OF MISS CORA ALBRIGHT.

Miss Cora Albright, who has been ill for some time, died last night at 9 o'clock. She was a well known school teacher in the city, for many years having been on the staff of the Kamehameha Girls' School. The funeral, of which particulars of time and place will be given in this paper tomorrow morning, will take place tomorrow afternoon, probably from the Kamehameha chapel.
